Greetings!

It is hard to believe that Fall will be here in just a few days. Hopefully you have all had a wonderful summer full of adventures.

I had an adventure in August attending the Regional President’s meeting in Montreal, Quebec Canada. I had never had the opportunity to visit Montreal before, so I took advantage of this trip and did a little sightseeing in addition to attending the meeting. It is a beautiful and very hospitable city. I enjoyed getting to learn a little about it.

In addition to the Regional Meeting, Canada was having their annual AGM. Our Canadian BPW Sisters were most gracious and made us feel very welcome. Our condolences go out to Canadian President, Linda Davis, whose Father passed away during this time. Fortunately, she was able to be with him.

At the Regional Meeting the Regional Coordinator, Dawne Williams gave greetings to all of the members and provided an update on her activities. The President’s gave an update on what was happening in their area and Regional Secretary Christine Walwyn presented an overview of all of the clubs and federations SDG projects. We also selected the site for the next Regional Meeting which will be in St. Martin’s sometime in 2021 or 2022. Dawne Williams was also selected as our candidate for Regional Coordinator to be elected at the next International Congress in 2020.

The Canadian AGM had several interesting speakers including International President Dr. Amany Asfour and provided a Reception at City Hall and a wonderful dinner at the Pink Palace, where we all wore pink.

Our history continues as we move into the 21st Century. BPW continued to be branded as the premiere grassroots organization addressing the wage gap, with most of our Local Organizations participating in events to focus on Equal Pay Day, usually the 2nd Tuesday of April. In 2002, the "Take the Pay Equity Pledge" Campaign asked candidates for Congress to sign a pledge to support the Paycheck Fairness Act. As pledge cards came in, BPW’s Local Organizations held press conferences and distributed press releases on those candidates friendly to BPW's focus issue-Pay Equity.

In October 2005, BPW/USA launched Women Joining Forces: Closing Ranks, Opening Doors (WJF), a program to support women veterans as they transition from military to civilian life. This commitment made BPW/USA the first and only non-governmental agency to offer programming that supports women veterans.

Our condolences also go out to International President, Dr. Amany Asfour, on the death of her sister. We are so sorry for your loss.

I hope that you will join us for our quarterly Board of Director’s meeting on September 17th.

ADVOCACY NEWS BY NANCY WERNER

By: Nancy Werner, NFBPWC, 2nd Vice President of Advocacy

Virginia is ONE VOTE AWAY from ratifying the Equal Rights Amendment. This fall, every seat in the Virginia Senate and the House of Delegates is up for election. I wrote about the situation of Virginia back in January/February BUT something happened since then. Federal judges selected a new House of Delegates district map that revised boundaries of 26 districts. With the new districts, many House of Delegates races are more evenly matched than they have been for a decade or more. This November Virginia voters have a once in a lifetime opportunity to make constitutional history by electing candidates who will ratify the Equal rights Amendment.
Now Virginia ratification requires a change in the House leadership. We saw this very clearly during the General Assembly 2019. Virginia needs our support whether it by donating funds, signing up for their newsletter, or contacting them to join the campaign. (https://varatifyera.org)

The Virginia Ratify ERA wants to be that 38th State. The state number required to ratify the amendment to correct the purposeful, historical exclusion of women from the Constitution. We are all repeating the “Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex.”

We can make it happen. Please take a moment and visit the link. Take action, please.

But look what is happening in North Carolina. ERA Billboards are appearing everywhere. The AAUW and the ERA NC are busy. The message says it all for North Carolina residents. “Women Have 0 Equal Rights.” Please read it. I wish to thank Marsha Ribner-Cady, our NFBPWC Recording Secretary, for sending the photo onto me. She lives in North Carolina and is keeping a watch for us. If Virginia doesn’t make the 38th state, North Carolina is sure working hard that their state gets in the history books. What ERA enthusiasm in these two southern states!

GREEN NEWS

By: Laurie Dameron, BPW Boulder Member
Chair BPW Colorado Environment and Sustainable Development Committee
Chair NFBPW Environmental and Sustainable Development Committee

Join Global Climate Strike

As the chair of the environmental committee for both Business & Professional Women of Colorado and the National Federation of Business & Professional Women’s Clubs, I have been trying to think of a “Starbucks Campaign” for the last few years. I am a Starbucks Gold Card member. Yes, I know some of you may criticize me for being a patron of this huge—and often irresponsible—corporation. But If Starbucks were to become a leader in being sustainable, it could make a tremendous difference in educating folks! So, one reason is I hoped it would make me more credible when urging them to do better environmentally.
I have written to Starbucks for years and had face-to-face meetings with the district manager and managers of different stores in Boulder County, trying to get them to encourage more folks to bring in their own coffee cups by raising the 10-cent discount for doing this as well as urging them to use real cups unless folks are getting their beverage to go. (Of course, it would also be great if they would use recyclable plastics and coffee cups.) I also wrote them almost every day during April 2018, with ideas on how to celebrate Earth Day. I wrote them several times this past April as well to no avail.

Moreover, I sent the current manager of the 2770 Pearl Street store in Boulder and the district manager nice Christmas cards in 2018, thanking them for having good coffee and stellar employees—and to tell them I was looking forward to meeting with them at the beginning of the new year to discuss how Starbucks might be “greener.” I followed up several times, but got no response.

Several months ago, one of our BPW Boulder interns suggested that young people today would rather do something outrageous about environmental degradation, like a protest. At the time, I thought that would be too extreme and didn’t want to ruffle any feathers—but now I’m done with being polite to Starbucks!

So when I saw the chance through 350.org to hold a climate strike, I jumped on it (see https://350.org/support-climate-strikes). And since I was doing that, I finally made a petition about Starbucks through change.org, which I’d also been putting off.

The Global Climate Strike is happening as a coalition of several organizations, including 350.org, International Indigenous Youth Council, and US Youth Climate Strikes. Thunberg is the amazing 16-year-old from Sweden who has made the news as a climate activist; she’s done a TED talk and was even nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize! Inspired by Thunberg, young students have been holding strikes around the world for the past six months to raise awareness that climate change is the biggest issue that humankind has ever faced.

And now adults are being asked to join in on September 20, 2019. Organizers say this is only the beginning of a week of action; we’ll all be working towards influencing our candidates in the 2020 election. You can see where climate strikes are being held—or organize your own—at https://strikewithus.org. I hope BPW chapters all around the USA will establish some events. I also hope just about everyone will participate; you don’t have to be anyone special—just someone with passion!

The Boulder strike will be held on Friday, September 20, noon to 1:30 pm, at the northwest corner of 28th Street and Pearl Street, near Starbucks, Floyd’s, and Wahoo’s Fish Taco, where there is a large patio. I am hoping to get a permit so we can have a sound system with speakers. Possible speakers include Governor Polis, Representative Joe Neguse, Rosie Briggs of Eco-Cycle, Representative and Speaker of Colorado House KC Becker, and Representative Edie Hooton. Some organizations I hope to be involved are 350.org, Boulder Time Bank, BPW, Eco-Cycle, Girl Scouts, Rocky Mountain Peace and Justice Center, the Women’s Collaborative of Boulder County, and eco groups from local high schools. If you have any suggestions, please let me know!

More information, which will be updated regularly, is at https://www.facebook.com/events/2122410217868972/. There is a link to the petition at that Facebook event. Please help spread the word! Thank you so much!

Now, let’s see where we left off with Pope Francis:

III. LOSS OF BIODIVERSITY

35. In assessing the environmental impact of any project, concern is usually shown for its effects on soil, water and air, yet few careful studies are made of its impact on biodiversity, as if the loss of species or animals and plant groups were of little importance. Highways, new plantations, the fencing-off of certain areas, the damming of water sources, and similar developments, crowd out natural habitats and, at times, break them up in such a way that animal populations can no longer migrate or roam freely. As a result, some species face extinction. Alternatives exist which at least lessen the impact of these projects, like the creation of biological corridors, but few countries demonstrate such concern and foresight. Frequently, when certain species are exploited commercially, little attention is paid to studying their reproductive patterns in order to prevent their depletion and the consequent imbalance of the ecosystem.

HEALTH COMMITTEE REPORT BY MARION WAELSCHLI

By: Marion Waelschli
NFBPW Health Committee Chair

Now that we are getting ready to start school, remember that some children, young adults are required to get necessary shots for entry to school.

With the days getting shorter, yet still very high temperatures drinking water is a must. Water also helps your body keep working properly. We all need to drink lots of fluids to keep us running like fine toned bodies.

Water, water every—not for some other countries. We all need to keep in mind that helping other people get clean drinking water, join groups to help provide ways to get life sustainable drinking water.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT AND SEXUAL ABUSE AGAINST WORKING WOMEN COMMITTEE

By: Jackie Melvin, NFBPWC Task Force Chair
jamelvin@pacbell.net

I DID IT! AND I’M SORRY AND SINCERELY APOLOGIZE

Ever heard that from the accused sexual harassment predator? Nope.

More like this: “The allegations from these unnamed individuals dating back as many as 30 years are deeply troubling, and, as presented, inaccurate.

“Still it is painful to hear that I may have upset anyone or made them feel uncomfortable - no matter how long ago and despite my best intentions. I believe that all of my interactions and relationships were always welcomed and consensual. People who know me or who have worked with me know that I am not someone who would intentionally harm, offend, or embarrass anyone.

[Wait for it... it’s coming...here it is!]

“However, I recognize that the rules and standards by which we are - and should be - measured against today are very different than they were in the past. I am blessed and privileged to have had a more than 50-year career in opera and will hold myself to the highest standards.” [Catherine Womack of L.A. TIMES reporting 08/15/19].

Various reactions by professionals in his career to his statement include “He’s admitting that the ‘rules and standards’ have changed but declares that his relationships were always welcomed. If that’s true, then why does it matter that rules and standards have changed? He’s trying to have it both ways.”

And” “...he places the blame on generation and age”... “It refers to the women in dehumanizing ways, calling them “unnamed” which is false because one of the women is named...” in the article by Associated Press which... disclosed allegations by nine women [8 singers and 1 dancer] of sexual harassment during the ‘80's, ‘90's, and early 2000's.

In other words, Sir, sexual harassment in the workplace was okay 30 years ago but not today, right? Wrong. What’s changed is women are speaking out and the public is hearing their voices and has responded; the #MeToo reckoning has changed the culture of silence.

And who is this falling Macbeth, this tragic hero with the serious flaw? He is 78-year old Placido Domingo, the general director of Los Angeles Opera and arguably the most famous living figure in classical music. In the 1980's, the Spaniard, along with Luciano Pavarotti and Jose Carreras, as The Three Tenors, carried the magnificent world of opera to populist heights. His professional accomplishments over a 60-year career are extensive.

Watch the progress of this unfolding drama after the Associated Press reported “detailed alleged instances of unwanted sexual advances and perceived retaliation when those advances were rejected”, as just this week [8/21/19] , the L.A. Opera has hired a prominent and well-experienced attorney, Debra Wong Yang, of a prominent legal firm, Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, to conduct a “thorough and independent investigation” into the allegations.

This year’s theme is Hear Our Voice and California BPW members are making their voices heard in their communities.

Our newest club, San Gabriel BPW, celebrated its first anniversary with a special dinner meeting and the announcement of a new mentoring program. In conjunction with the Chinatown Service Center and the Small Business Administration, they will help women of all ages, but especially young women, to start their own businesses.

Burbank BPW is helping a college-bound young woman in her transition from the foster care system. Club members purchased much needed dorm supplies, including towels and bed linens, a lamp and decorations for her dorm room. (Pictured Right)

This young lady is the first in her family to attend a four-year college. As a foster youth, she experienced abuse or neglect and has overcome great odds to have received her high school diploma. BPW members plan to keep in contact with her, providing support throughout the year.

Downtown Sacramento BPW was represented at the annual Sacramento Women’s Conference by new member Sher Singh. The club had a table providing information about NFBPWC, as well as the California Federation. (Pictured Left)

Our August meeting was very exciting and helpful to our members.

The topic was "Are you Tired of being Tired!"

Our speaker Carolyn Zaumeyer, an expert on bio identical hormones presented us with all the reasons our hormones need to stay balanced to: reduce depression, anxiety, mood swings, memory loss, sleeplessness, foggy brain, fatigue, weight gain, headaches night sweats and hot flashes.

It was of high value and the members loved it!

Carolyn also raffled a free consultation and blood work panel valued at $350.00 which was gladly won!

Marsha was invited to be a judge at the Miss Lincoln County Apple Queen Scholarship Pageant on August 3. The requirements to be a pageant participate were: completing the application from the local BPW club, be a rising high school senior or local high school graduate less than 23 years old. Contestants have to attend rehearsals for the program. The winner is expected to participate in the Apple Festival in the fall and volunteer with the Coalition Against Child Abuse Price is Right event. They are also encouraged to visit as many Lincoln County Elementary schools as possible and to read with the students. There were 13 contestants this year and the winner was Kayla Marie Jackson. She won a $3000 scholarship!

We are looking forward to seeing pictures of our members in yellow to celebrate the 89th birthday of BPW International!
To all the folks out there who have children returning to school this fall we wish them (and you) a very successful year!

Paulsdale here we come! After a year of planning and setting the stage, we are officially opening the 2020 Women’s Right to Vote here in Pennsylvania. Visiting the Alice Paul Home in Mt. Laurel, New Jersey, has been a dream for many of our members. I have never been so excited about doing a BPW project except when I served as the Federation President back in 1995-96. I think I can say the same for my co-chair, Denice Robinson, who was State President in 2006-07. But we are only two weeks away from all the preparation and gathering of members and guests to come and join us. We have members driving from the PA East to a bus from PA West, all coming together on Saturday, September 7th. I just took the trip to Mt. Laurel and sat with Lucy Beard, the Director, and Kate Campbell Stevenson, our actress portrayer, to complete the final itinerary for our Paulsdale visit.

With a house tour for everyone, memorabilia to be purchased, a delicious luncheon and a performance by Kate as Alice Paul and Rose Crabtree. It will be a day to remember.

But our adventure does not end there, after visiting the Paulsdale, we will travel to the Valley Forge Hotel and Casino for an overnight stay. On Sunday morning, we are thrilled to be having Amanda Owen, Chair of the Justice Bell Foundation, speak to us about the famous bell and its travels throughout the 67 counties of Pennsylvania back in 1915. She discovered the Justice Bell at the Valley Forge Memorial Church and Museum a few years back. It was just sitting there with no information and when she asked about it, no one knew why it was there either. Well, Amanda has researched every bit of information about the Justice Bell. She has written a book and just produced a movie about it. In time for the 2020 Women’s Right to Vote celebration and we are so honored to be one of her first audiences. Can’t wait to report back to you in September. Let me share some photos before we get there. A great big hug to our Affiliate members who are making the journey: Cathy Collins, Diane Lewis, Susan Vladika, Laura Whetstone, Ginny Bailey, Nancy Thomas, Denice Robinson and myself. That’s half our membership! One more news bit - we were mentioned in the National Women’s History Gazette in the latest edition. We were mentioned under the State events with our Paulsdale visit and the Justice Bell. We were thrilled!

We did a group photo back on August 9th as we met for PA Affiliate Meeting. Now we were trying for the Equality Day look of wearing yellow. We got close. We wore yellow, some wore sashes, one wore her t-shirt of Making Alice Proud, one wore her 100 Years of BPW shirt, and even the Apollo Landing shirt was featured. We really had the spirit of Equality Day - August 26th in our hearts.
